Our Website Cookies and IP addresses

When you access our website, we may send a “cookie” (which is a small summary file containing a unique ID number) to your computer. This enables us to recognise your computer each time you visit our website. We also use cookies to measure traffic patterns, to determine which areas of our website have been visited, to measure transaction patterns, to analyse trends, administer the website, track users’ movements and gather broad demographic information. We use this to research our users’ habits so that we can improve our website and our service offering.

Our cookies may record information such as your Internet Protocol (IP) address (that is, the electronic addresses of computers connected to the internet), your device and browser type, operating system, the pages or features of our site to which you have browsed and the time spent on those pages or features, the frequency with which the site is used by you, the search terms that you have used, the links on our site that a you have clicked on or used, and other usage statistics.

While our cookies do not collect personal information, if you submit your name and email address as part of your usage, then we will link that personal information with the cookies information that we have previously collected from you. If you do not wish to receive cookies, you can set your browser so that your computer does not accept them.

Security.

As our website is linked to the internet, and the internet is inherently insecure, we cannot provide any assurance regarding the security of transmission of information you communicate to us online. We also cannot guarantee that the information you supply will not be intercepted while being transmitted over the internet. Accordingly, any personal information or other information which you transmit to us online is transmitted at your own risk.

Links and third party advertisements.

Our website may contain links to other websites operated by third parties. Our website may also display advertisements, which are hosted by third parties. We make no representations or warranties in relation to the privacy practices of any third party website or advertisement providers and we are not responsible for other privacy policies or the content of any third party website or advertisements. Third party websites are responsible for informing you about their own privacy practices. Our online advertising network partner may use cookies, web beacons or other web tracking techniques to collect non-personally identifiable information about your activities on the website 26201504 3 August 2020 and other websites that you may visit to provide you targeted advertising based upon your interests.

Continuity of service

UENZ makes no warranty or representation, express or implied, as to continuity of service. It reserves the right to suspend, terminate or otherwise alter access to the site's services at any time and without notice.

Your contributions to UENZ

UENZ has the legal rights to this website. We allow you for limited use of the website for your benefit. You can view or download pdf or eBooks for your personal use only. However, you are not allowed to copy or alter this website, for any other purpose without the prior expressed written consent from UENZ.

UENZ maintain and reserve the right to make decisions on changing, modifying, correcting, altering the contents and designs of the website, at any time and without notice.

Other than personal information, which is covered under the privacy policy, any material you transmit or post to the site is considered non-confidential. This includes request for consultation or quote on submissions you provide. We do not claim to own copyright material or contents.
